The data and programs contained within these directories replicate all tables and figures from the main draft and online appendix. The STATA do-files were last run on a desktop machine running Windows 7 64-bit and STATA 13.

Directory structure:

dofiles – STATA programs for generating tables and figures.

data_working – Final datasets and intermediate input datasets.

STATA Programs: \dofiles

1) 1_SingleWomen_ReadInCps.do / .log

a) Imports IPUMS-CPS into STATA format.

b) Constructs a sample of single women and their children (if present) with income and demographic information.

- c) Calculates federal and state income taxes as well as payroll taxes using NBER-TAXSIM.
- d) 1A_housing_merge.do
 - i) Prepares variables not found in IPUMS CPS (housing subsidy and school lunch value) to be merged into the samples.
- 2) 2_SingleWomen_simCredit.do / .log
 - a) Constructs simulated federal and state income tax (total tax, child tax credit, AMT, federal and state EITC) and transfer values (AFDC/TANF cash benefits). Simulated variables are calculated three ways, using a uniform distribution of earnings, and using income and demographic information from the 1983 and 1993 CPS.
- 3) 3_SingleWomen_regPrep.do / .log
 - a) Merges sample of single women to simulated variables, AFDC waiver variables, Federal Poverty Line and missing housing and school lunch values. Constructs some of the variables used as controls in following program.
- 4) 4_SingleWomen_analysis.do / .log
 - a) Produces results for: Main paper tables 1-4; figures 3-9; Online appendix figure 3a, 5-7, 9; tables 2-4, 6-8.
 - b) Restricts sample of single women to final sample.
 - c) Constructs rest of control and outcome variables.
 - d) Specifies STATA locals that describe various control sets, subsamples and experimental designs.
 - e) The program regHelper produces a matrix of the reduced form estimate, the 2SLS estimate, the percent impact, the extensive margin elasticity, and the mean of the dependent variable for a specified outcome and experimental design (equation 1 of the main paper). This program is used to estimate main paper tables 1-4, main table figures 6-8, online appendix table 3, 4, 6, and online appendix figure 8.

f) The program eventStudy, with the help of the program regHelper3, estimates the event time model specified in equation 2 of the main paper. This program is used to produce main paper figures 3a, 3b, 4a, 4b, 5, and appendix figures 5, 6, 7, 9.

g) Estimates the numbers removed from poverty presented in figure 9 of the main paper.

5) 5_SingleRestrictions_ReadInCps.do / .log

a) Constructs sample of single women, as in 1_SingleWomen_ReadInCps.do, with age, disability and school attendance, and education restrictions removed.

6) 6_SingleRestrictions_regPrep.do / .log

a) Like 3_SingleWomen_regPrep.do with restrictions removed.

7) 7_SingleRestrictions_analysis.do / .log

a) Estimates online appendix table 5 using similar structure to 4_SingleWomen_analysis.do.

8) 8_MarriedCouples_readInCps.do / .log

a) Constructs a sample of married couple and their children with demographic and income information. Calculates federal and state income taxes and employment taxes using NBER TAXSIM.

9) 9_MarriedCouples_simCredit.do / .log

a) Constructs simulated information for the sample of married couples.

10) 10_MarriedCouples_regPrep.do / .log

a) Performs a similar function as 3_SingleWomen_regPrep.do.

11) 11_MarriedCouples_analysis.do / .log

- a) Estimates online appendix figure 3b, table 8 using a procedure similar to 4_SingleWomen_analysis.do.

Additional datasets and programs: \data_working
